Paroid Roofing

This seems to be pretty good weather for Paroid Roofing, as nearly half of a shipment, just received per "Alameda" has already been sold.

What is Paroid Roofing? THE BEST ROOFING MADE!

It is 36 inches wide, 2 ply, and each roll contains 216 square feet, and will cover 2 squares, or 200 square feet. Every roll contains tin caps, nails, and one pint of cement, which is sufficient to lay one roll.

PAROID contains no Tar and requires no paint at time of laying. A few rolls of this roofing in our Fort Street window; have a look.

Kelekolio, messenger in the office of the Territorial Secretary and known as "the boy orator," on account of his political enthusiasm, celebrated the twenty-second anniversary of his birth on Friday last, also celebrating, on the same day, the twenty-first anniversary of his wife's birth.

It may be remarked that Friday was the 12th and that February 12 is honored by all as the anniversary of the birth of Lincoln.

WOODS & SHELDON

SPORTING GOODS

Within the next few days there will be opened at No. 91 King street an up-to-date sporting goods house, the only business of its kind in the Islands.

This business will be conducted under the name of Woods & Sheldon, and anyone who is acquainted with these young men must admit that they are enterprising and no doubt will make a success.

The store which was formerly occupied by Whitman & Co., has undergone many changes and by the aid of carpenters and decorators, is now as attractive as any in the city.

There is at the present time much demand for sporting goods on the Islands owing to the increase of interest in all sports and there is no doubt that there is a good opening for just such a business.

Jess Woods, who has been here but a short time, is widely and popularly known amongst the sporting element, having taken much active interest in baseball with the Punahou team, and coach of the H. A. C. football team.

He has also done much to promote boxing and organized the Honolulu Gun Club. He is also a director of the Heanani Boat Club. Mr. Woods understands the sporting goods business thoroughly, having been engaged in this line all his life.

F. C. Sheldon, late of New York, has had athletic experience at Yale and is an enthusiastic golfer.

An up-to-date stock of sporting goods and bicycles will be carried and the new firm will be in a position to supply any demand that may rise in this line.
